Dear Mr. Dulles,

I am very sorry to have missed you at noon this last Monday. I was told at your office that you had been called away and were not able to meet me as planned.

I spoke with Mr. [Redacted] but [Redacted] STAT
I wonder if perhaps you would still want to interview me personally. In the event that you do, I would be glad to come down again and meet with you at your convenience. What would you suggest?

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

STAT

[Redacted] has forwarded to me your letter of January 25;
and I would most certainly like an interview. Thank you for suggesting it.

If it is at all possible for you to see me on a Friday afternoon or a Monday morning in the near future, I would be most grateful. I ask the favor of an appointment on either of these two days as absenting myself from my work at those times would be least disruptive to the school's schedule. However, if obtaining appointments at such times is impossibly, I will gladly comply with whatever is convenient for you.

Thank you very much for your consideration.

Sincerely, / , /

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I appreciate your letter of 11 January 1951, with regard to the interest of your son-in-law in government work. In your letter you mention "OCI," but possibly you meant CIA.

From reading the enclosure to your letter, it seems to me that your son-in-law has a splendid record. I suggest that at his convenience he should make application here, if this is the line of his interests. I will be glad to have a talk with him if he should come to Washington.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles

1. I recommend [redacted] for assignment as Commanding Officer of a heavy bombardment squadron in a "Parent" or training unit in the 2d Air Force.

[redacted] has served under me as a flight commander and squadron operations officer and has always performed in a superior and exemplary manner.

3. [REDACTED] has completed an operational tour of twenty-five (25) missions, on several of which his plane was badly damaged and it was doubtful whether the plane could be flown back. On all occasions, however, [REDACTED] performed with the greatest courage and was a skilled pilot and flight leader.

4. I have always admired [redacted] judgement, his sense of his soldierly attitude. I commend him for these qualities and vouch for his ability to perform in a superior manner the duties for which I call him in paragraph 1.
